Ms. Ping Li

Q-Learning Institute – Olympiad Mathematics Teacher

Ms. Ping Li is an experienced Olympiad Math and Elementary Math teacher at Q-Learning Institute, known for her solid professional background and effective, engaging teaching style. She graduated from the Shanghai Sixth Normal School and Shanghai Education College with a major in Science Education and later furthered her studies in English and Early Childhood Education at the Université du Québec and Stratford Career Institute in Montreal, Canada.

Ms. Li holds a Senior Primary School Teacher Certificate and a Mandarin Proficiency Certificate, and she is well-versed in both Chinese and Canadian elementary math curricula and competition systems. In 2018, she led Q-Learning Institute's Grade 5–6 students to participate in the Grade 7 Gauss Contest hosted by the University of Waterloo, where five of her students achieved perfect scores — an outstanding accomplishment.

With over a decade of teaching experience at Jiangyang Primary School in Shanghai, Ms. Li has consistently delivered top results as a Grade 6 math teacher and has been recognized with multiple honours, including the Civilized Teacher Award, Outstanding Young Teacher Award, and District Excellent Educator Award. She has also received a Third Prize in district-level public lesson competitions and was named an Advanced Worker in Special Education. As an Olympiad math coach, Ms. Li has guided many students to win awards in various math competitions and holds a certified coach qualification. She focuses on building students' logical thinking and problem-solving skills through clear explanations and inspiring practice, making her a trusted mentor to students and parents alike.
