Ms. Amy Yang

Q-Learning Institute – Visual Arts & Animation Teacher

Ms. Amy Yang holds a Bachelor's degree in Animation from the China Academy of Art, a Master's degree in Animation from Queensland University of Technology (Australia), and an M.DXI (Master of Digital Experience Innovation) from the University of Waterloo (Canada). With over five years of teaching experience as a university lecturer in China and another five years of visual arts instruction in Canada,

Ms. Yang combines a strong academic background with hands-on industry expertise. She specializes in visual storytelling, digital media production, and interdisciplinary creative design. Proficient in industry-standard tools such as Maya, Premiere, and Photoshop, she guides students to master technical skills while encouraging bold, original artistic expression.

Ms. Yang has published research papers in international journals, led digital art projects, and mentored students who have won top prizes in national 3D animation and digital design competitions.

At Q-Learning Institute's Art Studio, she is dedicated to nurturing imagination, celebrating individuality, and helping students build professional-level portfolios that open doors to further artistic studies and creative industries.
